FOUND LYING ON PILE OF FODDER

Frederick Feitig of Near Waldron is Discovered in Unconscious
Condition in Indianapolis.

WAS DRENCHED BY THE RAIN

Wandered Away From Sanitarium
Tuesday Afternoon—Valuable
Diamond Was Missing.

Lying unconscious on a pile of fodder, drenched with rain, Frederick Feitig, 64 years old of Waldron, who disappeared Tuesday from a sanitarium was found by Christian and Andrew Miller, one-half mile north of Riverside Park in Indianapolis last night. Feitig went to Indianapolis last Saturday and went to the sanitarium for treatment. Tuesday he wandered away and all trace of him was lost until Miller called the police and City Hospital last night.

Feitig's groans led to his discovery and he was carried to the Miller home and given nourishment. When he could talk he said he was from one of the sanitariums.

When found Feitig had in his possession all his valuables except a diamond pin he was supposed to have had when he wandered away. He could not tell where he was over night, but said he was caught in the rain yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Feitig is a prominent retired business man living near the Rush-Shelby county line. Mrs. Feitig was informed yesterday morning that her husband had suddenly and mysteriously disappeared Tuesday afternoon. The Indianapolis police were notified of the case and telephone message was sent to Cincinnati for the police there to be on the lookout for the sick man. A private detective was also working on the case all day yesterday. It was feared then that he had met with foul play as he had a considerable money and jewelry on his person.

Mr. Feitig has been ill for some time. Last Saturday he went to the Henry Sanitarium, near the Murat theater in Indianapolis, to take treatment. He stated since the first day there that he believed he was improving. After his bath and change of clothing yesterday, he stated that he would take a short walk along the street to get exercise. Half an hour afterwards he had not returned and Mr. Henry began a search for him but he could not be found.

Several Indianapolis relatives were notified of his sudden disappearance and were soon taking part in the search. Mrs. Feitig was in a serious condition after she received the word and was unable to go.

Mr. Feitig is about sixty-four year old and is a Shriner. He retired from the manufacturing business in Cincinnati five years ago and erected a beautiful country home near Waldron, where he has lived a secluded life. He had a number of unsigned checks with him when he strayed away and Mrs. Feitig stopped their payment at the bank for fear that he had met with foul play.

FAVORABLY IMPRESSED.

A party of Shelbyville business men, composed of W. V. Dorsey, Charles Forrest, Galvey Whaley, O. W. Cotton, E. W. Beckman and Harve Oakley, were in the city to attend "Big Wednesday" and incidentally study its workings. They were favorably impressed.

The funeral services of Denton Frye, who died in Indianapolis this morning about one o'clock, will be held Saturday. The body will be buried at Fairview Saturday.

Mr. Donnegan will take charge of the work train here, and says he expects to stick to it until the new depots are completed. He will begin work Thursday.

REMONSTRANCE TO DREDGING IS FILED

Paper With 1685 Names Attached
Placed on File Against Flat-rock Improvement.

MOST OF THEM LIVE IN HENRY

As a consummation to the long struggle over the dredging of Flat-rock, which has been going on for several months, since the petition was first filed, the remonstrators late this afternoon filed their remonstrance to the petition, containing 1685 names. Of that number 783 live in Rush county, 115 in Fayette county and 787 in Henry county. Of the land owners who will be affected by the drain, 174 in Rush county, 75 in Fayette county and 65 in Henry county did not sign the remonstrance.

The court will take some action during the next term of court, which convenes in September. According to the statute the remonstrators must have over two-thirds of the of the land owners affected by the improvement to kill the petition. It is plain to be seen that they have more than that number as two thirds of the total is 1333. Next Saturday, June 18, was the last day the remonstrators could have filed their remonstrance. Smith, Cambern & Smith represented the remonstrators.

DIVORCE GRANTED; MARRIES AFFINITY

Musetta Newsom and James Long of
Arlington Given Marriage License Today.

DIVORCE GRANTED LAST TERM

It is almost certain that Alva Newsom a prominent resident of Arlington, who was granted a divorce from his wife during the last term of court, knew whereof he spoke, when he said in the divorce complaint that his wife was too intimate with James M. Long, a plasterer of Arlington. Musetta Newsom, the divorced wife, and James M. Long were granted a marriage license today and planned to be married immediately.

It will be remembered that Mr. Newsom first filed a divorce suit against his wife, making many sensational charges and later withdrew it when peace reigned in the household. On the day that he withdrew the complaint he learned that his wife was writing to Long and he re-filed the suit.

TO BE MARRIED TONIGHT.

Miss Olive M. Werking and Clement A. Hall were granted a marriage license this afternoon and will be married at the home of the bride-to-be's parents tonight.

BARELY AVERT BAD BARN FIRE

Blaze is Found in Jones Stables Before it Gains a Good Headway.

STARTED IN THE HAY STALL

Fire Department is Called Out and Large Crowd Gathers—Origin is Uncertain.

W. A. Jones and son Harrie are now considering themselves very fortunate that they were at Riverside park this morning when fire broke out in their big horse barn. As it was the blaze was seen before it was well under way and put out. The damage will not amount to over twenty-five dollars.

Harrie Jones was repeating a fast horse on the track when he happened to look toward the barn and saw smoke issuing from the roof in one place. It was not many minutes before he had the horse off the track and was looking for the location of the blaze. He found that fire in the big hay stall was the cause of all of the smoke although the blaze could not be seen.

It so happened that one of the colored men, who takes care of the horses, was passing at the time with a bucket of water. The water was thrown on the pile of hay and all of the helpers around the barn were soon at work attempting to extinguish the blaze. Water was poured on the top and the burned hay was pulled out from the bottom where the fire was located.

In this manner they were able to put the fire out in about ten minutes. It is not known how the blaze started unless it was caused from spontaneous combustion in the hay. None of the men had been smoking about the hay and if they had it is not probable that the spark would have started a blaze at the bottom of the pile.

The fire company was called out and had begun laying hose at the South Morgan street hydrant, intending to run it across the river, when it was reported that the blaze had been extinguished. A large crowd of people collected and came faster when they learned that the Jones horse barns were on fire.

Following on the heels of the other big barn fire of ten days ago, it was at first thought that a similar blaze was to be had. The fact that the Jones barns are in the vicinity led people to hurry to the scene of the excitement as fast as possible. There was much speculation at the time of the Caldwell and Davis fire as to what could be done in case the Jones barns caught fire. They are located across the river and would be inconvenient for the fire company to reach. Jones has a number of valuable race horses in the barn and in case a fire would get well started there, his loss would be great.

Following the alarm this morning the fire company hauled the big fire engine number two out and got up steam. It was taken down to the corner of Main and Second streets and water was pumped out for a few minutes. The engine was found to be working perfectly.

The interior of the Whitehead cafe has been tastefully remodeled. The fixtures are all white and new and artistically designed wall paper has been put on so that the cafe now has a very neat appearance.

MASONIC MEETING.

Phoenix Lodge No. 62 P. & A. M. will work in the Entered Apprentice degree Thursday evening, June 16. A good attendance is desired.

PROCEEDS WILL BENEFIT WIDOW

Best Musical Talent in the City Will be Heard at Entertainment
Tuesday Night.

PROCEEDS FOR MRS. HEADLEE

Without Support.

A concert will be given at the Main Street Christian church next Tuesday evening, the proceeds of which will be given to Mrs. Headlee, the widow of W. O. Headlee, who died several days ago. The best musical talent in the city will be found on the program at the benefit entertainment. The concert will be worth more than the price of admission which has been placed at twenty-five cents and besides the proceeds will go for a good cause.

Such an entertainment for the benefit of Mrs. Headlee has been considered for several days and it finally assumed definite proportions this morning when a committee was formed to take charge of the affair. Mrs. Headlee was consulted and gave her permission for such a work of charity.

Every resident of Rushville is acquainted with the life of W. O. Headlee, how he was left an orphan at two years of age, how he was forced to struggle through life as a boy, hampered by the loss of his parents, and being without funds, how he sought a higher education and was successful by his own hard work and untiring industry.

Just when he had about realized his life's ambition he was stricken with disease and after a heroic struggle, died. His widow and four young children were left penniless and without any means of support and for this reason, the concert is being given. It is believed that a large crowd can be obtained, not only for the feature for which it is given, but for the fact that the concert will be worth more than the price of admission.

By the death of W. O. Headlee this community suffered a great loss. He loved everyone and took the greatest interest in all matters of public good. He spent all his property seeking health. He died leaving a widow and four young children absolutely without means of support.

The committee begs to announce a Grand Benefit Concert to be given next Tuesday evening at eight-fifteen at the Main Street Christian church. The concert will be excellent and all funds will be turned over to Mrs. Headlee. Talk up the concert; ask for tickets to sell and everybody please come. Tickets, 25 cents.

RETAIL MERCHANTS TO MEET TONIGHT

Regular Bi-Monthly Session of Association When Business Will be Transacted.

GOOD ATTENDANCE IS DESIRED

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Rushville Retail Merchants' Association will be held in the court house assembly room tonight. In the light of the great success of "Big Wednesday" it is expected a good number of the members will be present. Much work has been accomplished in the last few weeks and it is hoped that a good crowd will be on hands to hear the report of several committees which will be heard. A good attendance is desired so that the features of yesterday may be discussed and improved upon if possible.

FORMER RESIDENT BURIED

Mrs. A. W. Hood Laid to Rest at Raleigh Today.

Mrs. A. W. Hood, formerly a resident of this county, was buried in the family cemetery at Raleigh today. Mr. and Mrs. Hood left here about twenty-five years ago, moving to Iowa for permanent residence. Mr. Hood died three years ago at the age of 97 years. Mrs. Hood then went to Boston to make her home with her son, the Rev. W. Lenoir Hood, where she died.

THE WEATHER.

Unsettled tonight and Friday.

DAY PROBABLY BE A FIXTURE

"Big Wednesday" Will Come Regular
After Pronounced Success of Second Attempt.

GOOD CROWDS IN ATTENDANCE

Auction Feature, Which Stood Trial
For First Time, Also Stamped With Approval.

"Big Wednesday" is now beyond any possible doubt a success and has become a permanent fixture in the life of Rushville. The crowds that were attracted here yesterday were a revelation when it is considered that the farmers are all very busy with their work and are unable to leave it while the weather is favorable.

The auction feature was the one which stood trial yesterday and it, too, is believed to be a success, although the farmers, for whom the auction was established principally, did not take a very active part in the affair. Most of the goods sold under the hammer came from the business houses. It is believed that in time the auctioneers will be unable to cry the sale of all of the articles that are brought in as soon as all of the conditions are well understood and the matter is given a very thorough consideration.

Many articles were sold cheap yesterday and many bargains were obtained. As soon as Rushville patrons realize that they can get real bargains not only at the auction but in the stores where special inducements are offered on that day, they will flock here. During the auction hours yesterday the store room was crowded and the bidding was spirited at times.

The business men all report an excellent business yesterday. Following the last "Big Wednesday" the Daily Republican carried interviews from a number of the business men on their opinions of the day. This time it is unnecessary. The merchants are unanimous in placing their stamp of approval on the day.

The entertainment of the crowd was one of the features of the day and even more popular than it was on the first day. The moving picture theaters could hardly take care of the crowds yesterday afternoon when every "Big Wednesday" purchaser was given free admittance. The band concerts were big features of the day. The Arlington band played in the morning and afternoon and the Rushville band gave a concert at night, when a large crowd gathered in the business district.

The president of the Shelbyville merchants' association, together with a number of other business men were here yesterday, inspecting the conditions and to see for themselves if the day was a success. They were favorably impressed by the plan and the large crowd. It is said that they may consider the establishment of such a day.

NOT YET SLOWED DOWN.

Probably due to the fact that the court house clock was accelerated to some extent during the last few months of cold weather, it is now about five minutes fast. It has not yet learned warm weather is among us—to stay and has not yet become lazy. But there's some chance of it slowing down to its usual rate.

TO CLOSE FOR THE SEASON.

The Industrial school will meet for the last time this summer in the court house next Saturday. All of the pupils who have been attending since the school has been held in the court house are asked to be present.

THE AEROPLANE DEFIES STORM

Sensational Flight at Indianapolis Aviation Meet.

BROOKINS OUTRIDES THE GALE

Apparently Devoid of Fear of the Unstable and Agitated Element into Which He Was Venturing, Wright's Expert Gave the Fifteen Thousand Spectators a Thrill Which They Are Not Likely Soon to Forget.

Indianapolis, June 16.—Flying in the air 100 feet from the ground with the wind blowing in a gust, was the feat performed by Aviator Brookins at the Speedway. Every movement of the wind sent a thrill through the 15,000 people present and there was a cry of horror at one time when for a minute the aviator appeared to have lost control in the wind, but his machine was quickly righted and moved in the rapidly increasing gale with the ease of a bird.

The aviator's chief trouble was to keep his machine before the wind or with it, as he was obliged to move here or less in circles, and when the wind caught him on the side or he was forced to breast it squarely, he got into trouble.

Everyone seemed to know that the storm was coming and the Wright brothers themselves seemed to question the expediency if not the safety of a flight in the face of the storm. They went out into the field, looked up at the sky, shook their heads and conferred quietly together, taking care that no one should hear what they had to say. They did reach a conclusion, but it was reported through the crowd that they had concluded to leave it to their men whether or not the flight should be attempted.

Walter Brookins was the only one who did not look skyward with doubting eyes, and in a few minutes he came to the monorail with his machine and it was seen that he was going to try the flight. The biplane started up and shot across the course and then went squarely into the wind, which was blowing not less than thirty miles an hour. For a quarter of a mile the biplane appeared to be carried forward by the gale, and then the aviator circled southward, still moving at a terrific speed.

From a hard fight he changed to an easy, wind-borne flight until he swung around for the south turn. Then the crowd got its first thrill of the day. Brookins's engine was heard to lose the shots of the exhaust, the big biplane tilted and plunged downward. Brookins welcomed the return report of his engine, the propellers whirled, he tilted his wings to catch the wind and shot skyward again. The crowd in the stands shuddered, but the incident was so soon over that it felt its heart pulses change to thrills of admiration almost instantly.

The navigator went bravely into the wind again and circled the big field several times, finally landing with all the ease that expert handling could accomplish.

Brookins made another attempt late in the day to break his altitude record of 4,384½ feet made on Monday, when he smashed the world's record, but he was unsuccessful. He was in the air nineteen minutes and forty seconds, but reached a height of only 1,420 feet.

constipation permanently by proper personal co-operation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, when required. The forming of regular habits is most important and while endeavoring to form them the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is most valuable, as it is the only laxative which acts without disturbing the natural functions and without debilitating and it is the one laxative which leaves the internal organs in a naturally healthy condition, thereby really aiding one in that way. To get its beneficial effects, buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is never classed by the well-informed with medicines which make extravagant and unfounded claims to cure habitual constipation without personal co-operation.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Why College Men Fail

"Why do college men fail?" was answered here in a baccalaureate sermon at New York university by the Rev. Dr. Cleland B. McAfee, a Brooklyn pastor, formerly of New York.

"There is no saving of individuals which does not take account of society," he said, "but there is no saving of society which does not take account of individuals. No system of society, not socialism, not communism, will prevent what we see every day---young men with every opportunity, with full powers, with all inducement to manliness, who will not be manly. The Bowery crowd, the bread lines, the assemblages of the 'down and out' are not made up of men who had no chance, of men who were cramped in their opportunities.

"Last winter a visitor who had passed through the same experience himself found that 2 per cent of the men who made up one bread line were college men. He found thirty college men of his own acquaintance in one small section. Another investigator found four hundred college-bread men in the Bowery crowd one evening. There you find sons of respectable, prosperous families. The slums produce much failure, but the avenues produce enough to keep us clear that society has to take account of individuals, and, what means more, that individuals must take account of themselves.

"The only basis for a self-respect which can not be lost is a definite, implicit recognition of the right of a man's conscience in his life. That at least never brought a man to a Bowery bread line. And the self-respect is the hope of citizenship."

Dr. McAfee deplored the predominance of practical politics in public today, and urged that conscience be considered more in the election of public officials. He closed by urging the seniors not to avoid movements because they are unpopular with a certain class, for to try to be popular with everybody, he said, is to play the coward and be false to conscience.

Parisian Sage Stops Falling Hair and Makes it Grow, or Money Back.

People who are not using Parisian Sage are not using the best, most delightful and refreshing hair grower and tonic in the world.

Parisian Sage is the big seller nowadays because when once tried no one ever goes back to the ordinary commercial tonics.

Read this: Mrs. Alberta Van Hise, 725 Monmouth St., Trenton, N. J. on October 14, 1909, wrote: "I have used Parisian Sage, and can say safely, that it has been very beneficial to my hair, stopping my hair from falling out, and curing dandruff, and making my hair much thicker and nicer.

Last summer I had the measles and my hair came out in handfuls, I thought I would have to have it cut off. I got a bottle of Parisian Sage, used it, and it saved me from having my hair cut off."

Parisian Sage is sold by druggists everywhere and by F. B. Johnson & Co. and is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itchy scalp in two weeks or money back. On Race Suicide

Henry James does not agree with Colonel Roosevelt on the question of large families. Small families such as prevail in France, indicate, to Mr. James' mind, intelligence and progress, while large families indicate the reverse.

"Large families are so embarrassing, too," said Mr. James, on his last American visit. "I once knew a man named Thompson who had fourteen children. Thompson agreed, one spring holiday, to take his children to the seashore for the week-end.

"They set off, reached the station, got their tickets and were about to board the train when Thompson was roughly collared by a policeman.

"Here, wot 'a' bin a-doing' of? the policeman growled fiercely.

"Me? Nothing. Why? stammered Thompson.

"The policeman waved his truncheon toward the Thompson family.

"Then wot in the bloody blazes," he hissed, "is this crowd a-follerin' ye fur?"--Minneapolis Journal.

city to be on the dock when Theodore Roosevelt lands on June 18. Arrangements were made, through suggestion and good offices of the Roosevelt reception committee in New York, so that the Indiana organization men might find places within the privileged enclosure at Pier No. 25, where the Roosevelt party will land. The Indiana party will attend the national convention of the Lincoln League at New York city June 24, and it is expected that Mr. Roosevelt will address that convention.

CRAWF. FAIRBANKS IS FOR TAGGART EVEN YET.

Predicts That if Democrats Win Tom Will Get Toga.

Indianapolis, June 16.--At the time of the Democratic state convention, when Crawford Fairbanks, called by John E. Lamb the "multi-millionaire brewer," was mingling with the delegates and quietly telling the boys about the liquor plank that Steve Fleming had ready for them to pass, he dropped into friendly conversation with a group of politicians, and talked of many things in a good-humored way. Incidentally he was asked why it was that Ben Shively was awarded the United States senatorship in 1909, when much trouble could have been prevented, and the John Kern wail could have been stilled by putting John W. Kern in the senatorship, as seemed to be demanded at the time.

Mr. Fairbanks, the brewer, chuckled as he replied that Shively "refused to let go of a sure thing and wait for such an uncertain thing as the issue of a fight against Beveridge."

"In 1909 Shively had a bird in the hand," said Crawford Fairbanks, "and he could not be coaxed to let go of it. We all knew that the candidate this year has got a game of chance, and an uncertain game ahead of him.

"Shively preferred not to take chances. You can see where Shively is. He is all set. If things go Democratic this year, you can mark my word for it, it will be Shively and Taggart in the United States senate.

"Shively would have made a better candidate this year than Taggart or any man we've got. But you can put it down now that Taggart will be junior senator if the Democrats carry Indiana this year."

The convention went on and indorsed John W. Kern for United States senator. But that action has not altered the sage observation of Crawford Fairbanks. That prediction stands without revision. And so far as can be seen with the naked eye, there is no reason for Mr. Fairbanks, the brewer, to change his mind or to edit his prediction. Taggart can eliminate Kern any day he desires to do so.

GOVERNOR IS BUSY PURSUING FRAUDS.

Concerned About Primary Vote Buying; Ignores Kern.

Indianapolis, June 16.--Is there a difference between bribery in a Democratic legislative caucus and buying votes at a primary election?

Governor Marshall has been called on to pass on a primary election contest in which it is charged that a candidate for prosecuting attorney went forth with money in his hand and purchased votes right and left, thus gaining the nomination. The governor holds that a writ of mandate and an injunction can be obtained to prevent the election officers from certifying the nomination of a man who buys votes at a primary.

He holds that such a man can be enjoined from taking office, if he is elected. In view of the interest being taken by the Democratic governor in a remote contest where a candidate for a county office is charged with fraud, it is hoped that in time the same Democratic governor can be induced to show interest in the charges made by John Kern that eight legislators were "bought up" by the men who put Senator Shively in his present high place.

Mr. Kern has not retracted his accusations. Senator Shively has not answered them. The Democratic governor has ignored them. The Democratic prosecutor of Marion county continues to pass them by. While the governor is working on the legal phases of primary election fraud, however, it is reasonable to hope he will go further and take up the more important caucus corruption described by Kern.

REPUBLICAN PLEDGES BEING CARRIED OUT.

Party Leaders United to Push Roosevelt Measures.

Washington, June 16.--Republicans in the congress are more than ever hopeful and certain that Republican pledges for progressive legislation will be so well carried out at this session as to give the Republican party good standing before the voters of the country.

It has been recognized all along that the majority should try to accomplish something on the lines laid down by President Taft and former President Roosevelt. There is good reason to feel that the close of the session will see once more a demonstration that Republicans, working together in the name of the people and progress, can get results worth while and achieve legislation such as is needed to meet changing conditions.

The public long ago ceased to look to Democrats for help in advancing popular reform legislation. The Democrats do not "stand hitched" for real reform. They are prone to follow Joe Bailey of Texas and stray into the ways of selfish interests.

On the other hand, with the demands of the people made clear, and with the needs of the nation set forth fully, the Republican majority, recognizing the desire for action, is getting busy in good shape.

Not only has the postal savings bank bill advanced rapidly and well, but the railroad rate bill, with a physical valuation clause, is on the way to enactment, with assurance of complete Republican support. And the tariff commission idea is being advanced successfully, with a $250,000 appropriation to provide for a tariff investigation.

ECONOMY THE SLOGAN IN NATION'S CAPITAL.

Movement May Mean Death to Public Buildings Bill.

Washington, June 16.--Word has gone out that there will be no public building bill this year. While the revenues are growing, and the government is in good shape financially, at the same time the good counsel of economy has been heeded, and Republican leaders are urging that the public building requests of congressmen be postponed. By cutting out the public building bill it is expected to cut down the appropriations several millions of dollars.

Indiana cities as follows are interested in a proposed public buildings bill:

Portland, $60,000 for a site and building; Frankfort, $70,000 for a site and building; Gary, $100,000 for a site and building; Huntington, $20,000 for a site; Wabash, $15,000 additional for building; Mishawaka, $60,000 for site and building; Newcastle, $70,000 for a site and building; Brazil, $27,000 additional for building; Seymour, $60,000 for a site and building; New Albany, $35,000 for improvements to the present building; Bloomington, $20,000 additional for building; Mt. Vernon, $7,500 for a site.

BOONE IN REVOLT AGAINST TAGGART.

Convention of Democrats on Record For Option.

Lebanon, Ind., June 16.--Boone county Democrats are seriously torn asunder on the local option question. In their convention the other day they passed resolutions pledging the Democratic candidate for state representative to vote for the maintenance of the county option law. In this they lined the county up in direct opposition against the Democratic state platform, which declares for the repeal of the option law. In other counties of the Ninth district a similar condition holds. It is expected that other counties will follow Boone and repudiate the Democratic state platform. This action bears out the idea that the question ought to be settled locally, and on a basis of the local demand. Boone county, and every other county of the Ninth is dry. The Democrats would make them all wet, if the state Democratic platform were to be enforced. But the Boone county Democrats have their own ideas, and they refuse to be bound by the state platform. The same convention indorsed Candidate Kern and Senator Shively, attorneys for the brewers.

INDIANA FIGHT MOST IMPORTANT

William Allen White Points Out Its Meaning.

PROGRESS IN THE BALANCE

Great Editor and Friend of Roosevelt

Refers to the Coming Campaign in Indiana as a Contest For Principles Which Make Up Roosevelt Policies--Hopes For Republican Victory and a Boost For Progressive Legislation, but Sees Bitter Struggle Ahead.

William Allen White, one of the most noted of present-day thinkers and writers on national and state issues, distinguished Kansas author and editor and close personal and political friend of Theodore Roosevelt, declares that the election in the state of Indiana this year is of national significance and importance. He says that the defeat of Senator Beveridge in Indiana this year would be in the nature of a national calamity, because of the conditions and the interests that would work that defeat.

The Indiana contest, according to Mr. White, has a bearing on the future of progressive policies with which the name of Roosevelt is identified.

Speaking of the fight Senator Beveridge has waged in the face of tremendous obstacles and of what his reelection means to the common, ordinary citizen, Mr. White said:

"The atmosphere of Washington is so different from the atmosphere of the country at large that the people do not realize the forces that are arrayed and the tremendous pressure that is brought to bear on men in congress to induce them to vote for the special interests, rather than for the public interests.

"The man who stands up for public interests as against private aggression in Washington is a marked man. Through enormous campaign contributions great corporate interests have captured the party organizations and smothered the party conscience, and those organizations have their home and their greatest power in Washington.

"Here they can bring pressure that is unimaginable by the average citizen at home. This pressure is social and political. They ostracize the independent, unbought congressman or senator, and they read him out of the party.

"It will be a great test of self-government in America this year when the people at home are brought face to face with the proposition of standing by the men who stood by them, and the greatest test of honest self-government in America will be in Indiana, for if there is one man in the United States whom the powers that prey through public plunder desire to annihilate politically that man is Senator Beveridge.

"He has withstood every kind of temptation that ever has been offered to man to induce him to betray his people. Every insidious art of the politician, the financier and the social artifice has been tried upon Beveridge and he has stood like a rock.

"The fact that Beveridge has stood unafraid and unshaken has meant much to the insurgents in both houses. Naturally the interests that he has rebuffed and has helped to keep within decent bounds are after him.

"They will use money in Indiana. They will use political trickery in Indiana. They will use every scheme and dodge that the wily politician knows in the high degrees of that craft.

"The people of Indiana have to vote through a legislature in order to return Senator Beveridge, so it may be expected that every Republican candidate for the legislature will be assailed, not because he is for Beveridge--not at all! The candidates will be attacked 'on personal grounds'; local issues will be manufactured, stories will be spread, every inducement will be held out for the average voter to vote for the Democratic legislative candidates.

"In county conventions where this diabolical influence can control, county offices will be swapped in order to get weak legislative nominations.

"Wherever the interests can do so, in any local community where they can control, wherever they can buy or trade for the party machinery, they will put up men they think can be defeated and then go to the polls and try to trade these men out of their birthright.

"It will take a political intelligence and purpose rarely demanded in American politics for the people of Indiana to sustain the champion of Indiana people, but the whole nation is watching the result, and the good will of every honest citizen of every state is with Senator Beveridge in his fight. The Indiana cause this year is the nation's cause."

If W. J. Bryan comes to Indiana to make campaign speeches it will not be on invitation from Tom Taggart. Mr. Bryan is for county option, Taggart is "ag'in it." Mr. Bryan wants county option in Nebraska. Taggart is trying to destroy county option in Indiana.

TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1111.

CLAUDE SIMPSON, Editor.

ROY HARROLD, City Editor.

Thursday, June 16, 1910.

One of the most remarkable inventions and discoveries of the age, barring none, is wireless telegraphy. Ever since Col. Roosevelt boarded the steamship for his homeward trip, the daily dispatches have brought the news of his doings while crossing the ocean, the same as if he were sojourning on land. Not alone is the important news sent out from the ship every day, but the vessel receives all the important news of the world, so that ocean passengers are constantly informed as to what is going on. A few years ago when a vessel left port it was lost to the world until it was sighted at the port of destination, and the passengers were totally ignorant as to what had transpired during their voyage. Wireless telegraphy is truly the greatest achievement of the present age.

The "Big Wednesday" was certainly a success yesterday. There was an even greater throng in the city than on the first "Big Wednesday," notwithstanding the fact that this is a busy season among farmers. The city had a gala appearance yesterday and it looked for the world like a big holiday, this impression being heightened by the band concerts on the public square.

The free public auction was a newly added feature, which, if persisted in, can be developed into a permanent and useful institution. The "market days" of some of the cities of the South, were developed from just such beginnings. Besides the practical and economic value of "Big Wednesday," the day affords the people of both town and country an enjoyable and sociable holiday—a day of recreation and hence a rest and change from the humdrum of life. It were better for all concerned if we had such holidays oftener.

Rush vs. Shelby.

The announcement of Dennis O'Neil of this city that he is a candidate for prosecutor subject to the Democratic nominating convention puts the Democrats of Shelby county in a peculiar muddle. It has been customary for the two counties to divide the honors—one offering candidates for the judgeship and the other for prosecutor. Shelby county already had candidates for both places in the field when Mr. O'Neil made his announcement.

This question has been a problem for the Democrats for some time. Shelby county has had two men who wished to be judge, but among the Rush county Democrats there have been no aspirants for the bench—that is aspirants with any prospects. Naturally then the candidacy for the place of prosecutor belongs to Rush county. But one John C. Cheney has a protest. John C. Cheney of Shelbyville is the present prosecutor and he believes he has done so well in the last two years that he deserves another term. Consequently he has announced himself for re-nomination and the Shelby county Democrats are for him. They have been trying to keep Rush county out in the cold—but Rush county Democrats have got pretty warm about it.

With the announcement of Mr. O'Neil comes the statement that the Rush county Democrats have something coming to them. They don't seem to be satisfied with taking a chance on the deputy prosecutor if the Democrats should be successful in electing a prosecutor again. Shelby county would have to grant them that much—a deputy-ship. But that sounds mighty small so they have decided to fight it out.

With a few more clashes, slaps in the face by other counties in the district, unpleasant incidents in State conventions, acts of "treachery" on the part of members of the city council, disagreement on the liquor question, etc., the Rush county Democrats should have little trouble in getting together for the fall election.

One Year's Progress.

The work of the airships at Indianapolis this week has been marvelous. Nothing seemed to be too much for the heavier than air machine and the pilots especially one of them, Brookins, has defied the elements in almost every conceivable way. He has made flights when the elements were treacherous, when storms were threatening, and when the machine had to meet unexpected air currents. And the machine has performed like a mighty bird soaring, dipping, rising higher, and higher, circling, flying against the wind or with the current as its master chose to make it.

While these machines have been giving exhibitions at Indianapolis others have been busy establishing new records at other places. A trip from New York to Philadelphia and return has been made. Only a few days ago the world was astounded by a successful flight from Albany to New York City along the course of the Hudson river. Almost each day the man birds accomplished something new and something more startling.

Just one year ago a great celebration was held at Dayton, the home of the Wright brothers. The aviators were gazed upon by thousands as curiosities. They had accomplished what man had been trying to accomplish for years. Yes, they had accomplished the feat of aviation, but that was scarcely all. Last summer for many days the skeptical world awaited the success of the government tests of the Wright machines. Each day as some little things prevented the Wrights from establishing their records the world grew more skeptical. But the Wrights made the tests successfully. All this was less than a year ago.

To see now what the operators may do with the machines, to see how much improvement has been made in a year, to note the daily accomplishment of the heavier than air machine, makes one wonder open-mouthed what the next five years will bring in air transportation.

Novel Plan to Raise Fund

Columbus is considering a novel method of raising a fund with which to secure factories. While without further explanation the plan is not as it might be, still it is new. The Republican of that city says:

At a meeting of the Commercial Club on Thursday night a great many things were discussed for attracting attention to this city, the most important being a proposition to raise a fund of $100,000 to bring manufacturing industries here. The club does not have that amount of available surplus on hands at present, but it is proposed to raise the $100,000 by subscription in rather a novel manner. A committee will be appointed to solicit this fund and property owners will be asked to subscribe one-tenth of one per cent. of the taxes they pay toward this booster project. It was argued Thursday night that this plan would work a hardship on no one and if collected in the way proposed would equalize the burden of the fund.

It was argued that the money subscribed for the bringing of industries here would be as bread cast upon the waters and that it would return many fold in a very short time. For instance, the merchant who subscribes $100 would soon get it back after a factory with a goodly payroll was in operation here, the money coming from increased patronage of his store.

Says Banks Thrive When Saloon Goes

The contention of saloon men that Wells County would suffer from a business standpoint if it went "dry" has not been sustained, according to E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Shumaker caused an investigation to be made in Wells and other counties and he says there has been a heavy increase in bank deposits in Wells county especially since the county went "dry."

"Recently a representative of the Anti-Saloon League visited Wells and Blackford counties," said Mr. Shumaker yesterday, "and investigated conditions in those counties as they obtained May 21, 1909, and May 21, 1910. Wells county is 'dry,' while Blackford County voted to retain its saloons and is reaping a harvest of crime as a result."

"The three banks of Bluffton had on deposit on May 21, 1909, a total of $1,571,807.05, while Liberty Center had a total of $68,000 on deposit, making a total of $1,639,807.05 for Wells county on May 21, a year ago. On May 21, 1910, the three banks in the city of Bluffton had on deposit a total of $1,764,109.54, and the bank at Liberty Center had on deposit $81,000. A new bank in the meantime had started at Petroleum, which has $96,000 on deposit and also another in Toesin with a total of deposit of $23,676.46. This makes a total of $1,964,788, or an increase of $324,978.95 in one year's time, being a total gain of 19.8 per cent, and all this in a country that the liquor men predicted would go to the 'bow-wows' if the saloons were put out of existence."

"Our representative also visited Montpelier and Hartford City and got a statement from four of the banks in those two cities, showing deposits on May 21, 1909, and May 21, this year. The cashier of the First National Bank of Hartford City, after taking the slip which contained the dates on which amounts on deposits were desired, went to his books and returned in a few minutes refused to give the statement. Omitting this blank, the banks of Blackford county May, 1909, had on deposit a total of $1,796,050.86. On May 21, 1910, their total deposits were $1,840,094.47. This was an increase of only $44,043.61, or of 2.5 per cent. Two of the banks of the county showed an actual decrease in deposits, while in every Wells county bank the deposits showed a healthy increase."

"Blackford county voted 'wet' under the impression that it meant increased business. While its banking business has increased, yet the percentage of increase in the bank deposit of Wells county is over seven times as great as those in Blackford. 'Ever since Fayette and Henry counties went 'dry' Cambridge City in Wayne county has been a mecca for the thirsty brigade from Newcastle and Connersville. The citizens of Cambridge City however, have grown tired of the debaucheries which have been taking place on the streets of their town."

"After a tremendous contest lasting six weeks the citizens of that township filed a remonstrance with 642 signatures. Five hundred and forty constituted a majority of the voters, but the liquor forces had filed a list of withdrawals amounting to fifty-six, but parts of this, it seems, are the withdrawals of persons who never signed the remonstrance. The temperance forces claim that they have a clear majority of forty-one over all doubtful names, so are very jubilant. Seven saloons must now close their doors. This means that all of Wayne county outside the city of Richmond, is now on the 'dry' list, as Hagerstown, which had been 'dry' for two years, has also filed a new remonstrance containing a clear majority."

"At the same time the citizens of Wheeler in Porter county have filed a new remonstrance containing a majority of eleven voters against the introduction of the saloon into that town."

To Avoid Pest

It is of the utmost importance that farmers and seed dealers should familiarize themselves with the dodder, otherwise the matter may be talked and written about endlessly and no headway will be made in exterminating the plant from the fields, or in guarding against the use of seed containing dodder, according to a bulletin from Purdue University. Strictly avoid dodder-infested seed. A purchaser of seed is apt at any time to buy seed containing dodder, unless he has thoroughly examined the seed or has had it examined for him. The cheaper the lower grades of seed, with which some farmers unfortunately are satisfied, are very likely to contain dodder and many other kinds of weed seeds, as well as a large percentage of inert matter and dead seed. Farmers and dealers should become accustomed to the use of a magnifying glass, know common weed seed impurities and make tests for themselves. Thus, if the farmers buys on sample as he should, examine his samples himself, and finds suitable seed, he can without delay purchase his supply from the same bulk lot from which the good sample came. Insist on samples being made up of seed from different parts of sacks or bin; otherwise samples will not be representative of the bulk lots. Though every precaution may have been taken to obtain dodder-free seed, yet a few seeds may have escaped notice and may therefore be present. Thus the clover or alfalfa field will be "spotted" with dodder. Root up everything on the "spots" and burn without moving, or remove and burn if there is no danger of scattering seed. Get far enough out from the borders of the "spots" to make sure that all the dodder is destroyed. Small pieces of plants left continue to grow. Should a field have become generally infested, it is advisable to plow up the clover field before dodder seed is formed. Let the succeeding crop be a cultivated, non-leguminous one. Work out of the ground any dodder seed that may be there, by encouraging them to sprout, and killing the seedlings by cultivation. Should seed have matured before the crop can be plowed under, burn the crop over, then plow and follow with a cultivated crop. Instead of either plowing or burning, shallow cultivation, followed by a cultivated crop kept thoroughly clean, may be resorted to. Here the plan is to cause the seeds to germinate and to destroy the seedlings. Any use desired may be made of the stand of clover on the ground, providing it is cut for hay, pastured or plowed under before the seed is formed. Stubble in the infested field must be plowed under without delay. It should be distinctly understood that dodder is the worst plant enemy that alfalfa has, and that every effort should be made to guard against dodder infestation; in fact weeds of any description in alfalfa fields are decidedly detrimental to the production of the best crops.

Fear "B" on the Oats
"The B is on the oats." This is the cry of many farmers living in the vicinity of Anthony, Delaware county, who remember the incident of the letter "B" appearing in the year 1860 before the Civil war, and who claim that such a sign forecasts bloodshed and horror, and are now fearing that some terrible catastrophe is about to pass over this country.
When Halley's comet first made its appearance, farmers residing near Anthony were alarmed for fear that something of an unusual nature would soon occur, but when, after an investigation of the oats crop which is made every year in order to ascertain whether or not they could find the letter "B" on the leaves, the fears of the farmers were greatly increased. Supposition as to what will constitute the impending calamity now form the chief topics of conversation in that community.
Only the oldest residents are able to remember the incident in 1860 when the letter "B" appeared in clear outline on the oats leaves. Being a very peculiar occurrence, the unusual growth on the oats leaves was directly associated as having something to do in bringing about the Civil War, and since that time the superstitious ideas about the "B" on the oats has been handed down until it has become a custom in some communities to examine the oats crop each year.
The Peruvian Indians are credited with having the greatest range of vision of all races, cases have been recorded of their distinguished human beings eighteen miles away.

An Expert's Opinion of Skin Disease.
A prominent, national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin disease, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only do its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use. A great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. F. E. Wolcott will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin disease and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

TAME PHEASANTS BOTHER FARMERS
Wander Into Barnyards in Decatur County And Fight With Chickens Ensues.
ALSO DESTROYS TURKEY NESTS

Farmers in Decatur county who have given over their lands as game preserves are being confronted with a situation that promises to be serious. The Hungarian pheasants that were placed in the game preserves are becoming exceedingly tame, and it is no uncommon thing for them to wander into barnyards.
On the Charles Throp farm, northeast of Greensburg, an unusually large pheasant seems to have a particular aversion to turkeys. It has destroyed two or three turkey nests and whipped the gobblers of the brood to a "frazzle." It is a common sight when a pheasant appears in a barnyard to see a fight between it and chickens and the pheasant usually wins.

NEW CASTLE GETS BIG SLICE OF PORK
Seventy Thousand Dollars is Appropriated For a Government Building in That City.
BARNARD PLEASES TOWNSMEN
New Castle gets a chunk of "pork" out of the general appropriation for public buildings, which aggregate $21,000,000, and Judge Barnard's friends are quite well pleased that he won the case, which looked a little doubtful for a time.
The amount asked for by Representative Barnard was $100,000 for location and building, and $70,000 was appropriated. Not often is the amount deemed necessary granted at first, but a second bill supplies the balance. At this time $20,000 additional was appropriated for Bloomington, Indiana. Already "site pickers" are getting busy, and fully a half dozen locations are suggested.

An Automobile Plow
An automobile plow is now in use on the Graham farms, north of the city, says a dispatch from Washington, Ind.
The automobile has a radiator and fans for cooling the engines, the same as other autos. It is propelled with gasoline, and magneto sparks explode the gas. It has four wheels, the front wheels about four feet high and the rear wheels eight feet high. The rear wheels are about 18 inches wide, enabling the auto to travel through soft earth without miring deeply.
Behind the auto is drawn a gang of eight plows, plowing a strip ten feet wide each trip across the farm. The auto, when plowing, travels at a speed of two and a half to three miles an hour. After the first trip across the farm it automatically guides itself, and if the field be free from stumps, it could be started at one end of the farm, a mile or two long, and without any one accompanying it and do the work perfectly.
Plowing 30 acres is regarded as an average day's work for the machine. Thirty horses and 15 men would be necessary to do the same work. Only $4 of gasoline is required to feed the engine a day while in operation. All of Graham's 1600 acres are in two hundred acre farms. The auto plows, therefore, travel a long distance before making turns. This is said to be the first practical test of the auto plow in Indiana.
For use in manual training schools a Wisconsin man has patented a tool chest which may be converted into a work bench by clamping it to the top of two desks.

AMUSEMENTS
The program at the Vaudet tonight will be comedy. Two subjects will be run. The first film is entitled "Now Keep Smiling," and the second, "Story of a Bad Cigar." This last subject will probably touch the funny bone of smokers who have had experience with bad cigars. The vocalist will sing a new illustrated song.

The Star Grand will present one of Lubin's Indian dramas tonight entitled "Indian Blood." Most Indian stories run pretty much the same way, but here is one that is of an entirely different sort. It is a stirring tale of western life, strong enough to score a success even without the aid of especially good settings, but the photographer kept pace with the director and the western scenes are as pleasing to the eye as the story is interesting to the mind. It took some tall climbing to get some of the scenes from a proper viewpoint and in one scene in particular actors who did not appear in that scene had to hold down the legs of the camera to keep it steady on the slippery rocks, but the scene shows no trace of the difficulties encountered and the players forgot aching muscles when they saw the result upon the screen. Earl

Robertson will sing "In the Little Town Across From Jersey City."

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that. I am the one physician who says to the sick "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help!" And for 20 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere. Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarrented and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the stomach nerves, or the heart or kidney nerves fail, these sick ones know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when their health fails to return, Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for that test. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted. But write me first for an order. This will save delay and disappointment. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line please—for I have appointed an honest and responsible druggist to issue my "no pay" medicines to the sick. Tell me also which book you need. The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely yours—simple now, while you have it fresh in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

NEW YORKERS ARE ALL AGOG

Big Doings Planned for The Colonel's Homecoming.

AN OUTLINE OF THE PROGRAM

From the Time the Returning Hunter Is Taken Off the Steamer at Quarantine Saturday Morning at 6 O'Clock Until Late in the Afternoon It Will Be One Continual Round of Marching and Countermarching.

New York, June 16.—One got a notion of how distinguished a private citizen Colonel Roosevelt is when visiting his publicity headquarters here. Twenty-five men and women, headed by the secretary of the committee, Captain Cosby, and Assistant Secretary Harwood, are busy day and night shooting out mimeograph copies of all the wonders that are to happen when the hunter arrives here Saturday. Already the Lehigh Valley, the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and other lines with trunk line connections have sent word forward that beginning today they will start in to send their fastest trains into New York in sections to accommodate the members of the Hamilton club of Chicago, the Rough Riders and other organizations who want to get here on time to greet the colonel.

The Hamburg-American liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria is expected to cleave her way out of the murk off the Hook about 3 o'clock Saturday morning. This would bring her up to Quarantine about 6 a. m. Collector Loeb, the Roosevelt children now in this country, and a few intimate friends of the Roosevelt family will board the revenue cutter Manhattan at 7:45 a. m., and go down to Quarantine to take the colonel off the liner. There will be breakfast aboard the Manhattan.

At 8:50 the revenue cutter Andros-coggin will chug out from the Battery loaded with the reception committee of 300 and guests that include Governor Watts of Connecticut, Governor Mills of New Mexico, Governor Fort of New Jersey, and Governor Kimby of New Hampshire. Aboard the Andros-coggin also will be representatives of the governors of Montana, Washington, Minnesota, West Virginia and perhaps representatives of other states. Aboard the Dolphin will be Captain Butt, Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, and Secretary Meyer of the navy. Captain Butt will carry in his coat pocket a letter from Mr. Taft to Mr. Roosevelt, the tenor of which is a welcome home.

Colonel Roosevelt will depart from the Manhattan at 9 o'clock down at Quarantine and go aboard the Andros-coggin to be greeted by Mr. Vanderbilt and his reception committee. Then the battleship South Carolina will lead the way for the naval parade, and two abreast with Commodore Fred B. Dazell in command, the water show will steam up the North river to a stake-boat off Fifty-ninth street. Here the water parade will turn and go back to the Battery. If all goes well, Colonel Roosevelt should step back on his own country between 10:30 and 11 o'clock at the Battery. About 2,500 invited guests will be grouped there to greet him when he walks ashore with his reception committee. A grandstand already has been built at the Battery with a platform from which Mayor Gaynor will make a speech of welcome to the returning colonel. Upon the completion of the mayor's address Colonel Roosevelt will speak.

Carriages for the reception committee, the governors, their aides and the representatives of state governors will be at their disposal as soon as Mr. Roosevelt stops talking.

The parade will not be so large as some folks would like to see it. Mr. Harwood says that twenty-four hours after the offices of the reception committee opened more than 30,000 marchers had asked for a place in line. Before three days had passed more than 50,000 were clamoring for positions in the parade. Whereupon the reception committee put its foot down in order to save Roosevelt from the fatigue of standing all day watching the thousands march past him.

The parade will march up Broadway to Fourth street, headed by the mounted police. The Seventh regiment band will follow and behind the band will clatter a band of the colonel's Rough Riders. The Rough Riders, with the Abernathy kids bringing up the rear, will escort Colonel Roosevelt, who will ride in a low-neck hack. After this comes the squadron, a band with the reception committee in carriages following. The rest of the parade will consist of about 2,000 members of the Spanish war veterans.

Not a Word For Print.
SS. Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, by Wireless via Cape Race, June 16.—Mr. Roosevelt is receiving by wireless numerous invitations to speak when he reaches home, but he says it is impossible for him to accept. He is also getting greeting from many political and other bodies. He announces that he will give no interviews when he arrives.

Fully a hundred have been drowned in the Swiss floods. Vast areas have been deluged and the agricultural losses are immense.

FIRMLY UNITED

Fifth District Republicans Preparing For a Winning Fight.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, June 16.—The Fifth district Republican congressional convention will be held June 30, at Martinsville, opening at 11 o'clock a. m. Seven counties are in the Fifth, and they include Clay, with 19 delegates; Hendricks, 16; Morgan, 15; Parke, 15; Putnam, 13; Vermillion, 13; and Vigo 15, a total of 142. Delegates will be made June 24, all counties in the district naming delegates the same day, under the fair play rule laid down by the Republican state central committee and the state convention. Frank Tilley, of Terre Haute; Roy Shattuck of Brazil; E. M. Blessing, of Danville; former Congressman George Faris, and Joseph Catlin, of Terre Haute, are possibilities. Mr. Shattuck is a receptive candidate. Mr. Faris is in New York City, but many of his friends express a desire that he shall return to the old Fifth and get into the political game once more. The nomination is to be made in the friendliest possible spirit. The nominee is to be a Republican on whom all Republicans can unite, and it is the generally accepted belief that the nominee will be elected. Not in years have the Republicans of the Fifth district been so well united and so fully aroused to their opportunity as they are at this time. The tremendous split in the Democratic organization has made an opening for Republican success, and assurances of aggressive interest on the part of the Republican state central committee has enlivened the old Fifth to an unusual degree.

As a matter of fact, there has never been the least reason to feel, in any quarter, that the state Republican organization was centered on any particular part of the ticket. The state central committee has refrained, very properly and sensibly, from meddling in congressional matters previous to nominations. But that fact does not go to indicate that there has been any lack of interest in congressional success. The state central committee has been concerned to the extent that there has been a strong desire to see the strongest possible congressional candidates nominated. But there can be no possible complaint that any interference has taken place in any district. President Taft and the Republican congressional campaign committee have expressed an interest in the Indiana congressional fight, and the word has gone forth from the head of the Republican party, and from the national chairman, that Indiana Republicans are called on to send a Republican majority to Washington next March. This includes Senator Beveridge. It also includes the fighters who are to lead in the thirteen districts of the state. It takes in all who have been nominated, and it includes all who yet are to be chosen. Nor is the importance of the legislature to be lost sight of in the congressional struggles. Nor are the state and county tickets, and the judicial tickets to be put aside for a minute. The fight is a Republican party fight on the broadest possible lines, and it behooves the workers to pick winners all up and down the ticket.

There has been much interest over the state in the question as to who would be chosen to succeed Luman K. Babcock as joint representative in the Indiana legislature from the Lagrange-Stauben district. Maurice McClew, a young and talented attorney of wide popularity, has been nominated. Mr. McClew comes from Angola. He was not opposed for the nomination. It is confidently predicted that he will be elected by a good majority, and he is expected to rival the good record made by Mr. Babcock, who now is serving well as secretary to Mayor Lew Shank of Indianapolis. Mr. McClew is instructed and pledged for Senator Beveridge, and for the maintenance of the local option law.

Fourth district Republicans are up and coming, in spite of the fact that their district is regarded as hopelessly Democratic. State Chairman E. M. Lee has been down in that section for a day or two, and yesterday attended a meeting of the Republican editors and county chairmen at North Vernon. Jacob Bauer, the hard-hustling district chairman, was present at the love feast, and organization talks were the rule. Down at Linton the day before, Oscar E. Bland, Republican nominee for congress in the Second district, gave a dinner for the editors and the county chairmen and other workers.

State Chairman Lee returned to Indianapolis last night to arrange matters in order that he might make the trip to New York city, where he is to be at the dock when Theodore Roosevelt lands, Saturday forenoon. The state Republican committee is to be there officially, and on special call from the Roosevelt reception committee, to extend to the former president a real Indiana greeting and congratulations on his safe return.

Ninth district Republicans, including District Chairman George Palmer of Sheridan, Fred Sims of the state organization, and the county chairmen of all the counties in the district met at the Claypool hotel yesterday to plan for a winning organization. E. E. Neal of Noblesville, the Republican congressional nominee, spoke to the county chairmen on the coming congressional campaign, and assured the workers that he was prepared to put his heart and soul into the fight.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by Hargrove & Mullin.

CALIFORNIA CAN'T HAVE PRIZE FIGHT

Gov. Gillett Stops Pugs' Plans.

PUTS HIS FOOT DOWN

Action Followed Interesting
Word From Washington.

WOULD LOSE THE PANAMA FAIR

Bennett of House Foreign Affairs Committee Takes a Hand.

San Francisco, June 16.—Governor Gillett has ordered the attorney general of the state to use the full force of his office to stop the proposed Jeffries-Johnson prize fight, which was to have taken place here on July 4. The instructions from the governor, contained in a letter to M. S. Webb, the attorney general, was followed by a statement from Gillett in which he emphatically asserted that the fight could not take place in California. This was followed by an interview with Mr. Webb in which he stated that the governor's instructions would be followed to the letter.

Coming as it did unexpectedly, the move to stop the fight created a sensation and for a time there was confusion among the sporting contingent. At first they regarded the whole thing as a bluff, but after the governor had talked over the long-distance telephone from Sacramento they came to the conclusion that he was in deadly earnest.

Tex Rickard was about the first to grasp the true meaning of it all, and he announced that he had stopped work on the big arena and that he, as the chief promoter of the fight, had no intention of bucking the governor. He intimated that the fight would probably be transferred to Nevada or Salt Lake City. Nevada is most likely to be selected, as prize fighting is not contrary to law there.

Jeffries was told of the governor's action and would not at first believe it. He insisted that some mistake had been made and that he would wait for official notification. On being assured that the report was authentic, Jeff resumed: "If the news is right I will continue training until I hear from Rickard and Gleason. After that my actions will be guided by their plans. If they want us to fight elsewhere I suppose we will have to, but that will be up to the promoters."

Jack Johnson took the governor's decision philosophically. He said with a grin that showed all his gold teeth:

"I am ready to go to any part of the world to defend my title, providing the contest cannot be held here. Go to Nevada? Sure. I will go there or any other place that Jeff agrees to go, Salt Lake, Australia and Kingdom Come. Though I don't suppose either Jeff or myself would be at our best in a high altitude, after training at sea level."

In case the courts refuse to grant the injunction, the governor directs the attorney general to proceed against the promoters, fighters and other parties interested, under the penal law which makes prize fighting a felony.

In his letter Gillett says that the district attorney of San Francisco has told him he cannot take action, and Gillett has notified the attorney general to supersede the San Francisco attorney and take action for the prevention of the fight. The governor assures the attorney general of the co-operation of the governor's office.

The action of Gillett was a sad blow to the sports of 'Frisco, but what they don't know is that the governor's hand was forced from Washington. The governor says that he has become convinced that the fight will be a prize fight and not a boxing contest, and for that reason as prize fighting is declared by the law to be a felony, he feels it his duty to stop the contest. This is the governor's official position.

But the real reason that prompted him to take this action was a telegraphic warning he received from Congressman Bennett of the foreign affairs committee. Bennett said that unless the governor stopped the fight San Francisco need not hope to secure the Panama fair. The same dispatch from Bennett was received by W. R. Wheeler, president of the chamber of commerce. This ultimatum made the governor take quick action, especially as it was seconded by dispatches from the California congressmen and senators.

On the other side the business and hotel men here are up in arms because of the action, as they don't appreciate the danger of the city losing the Panama fair.

Governor Gillett is evidently determined to put an end to prize fighting in this state, for later he sent a message to the attorney general authorizing him to stop the Langford-Kaufman fight next Saturday in 'Frisco. This intensified the gloom that hung over the 'Frisco fight promoters, as it was recognized as the death-knell of fighting in this state. No promoter can afford to antagonize the governor, as the attorney general's deputies could stop any boxing match as soon as blood was shed and the spectacle became brutal. All talk about taking legal measures against the governor's action is recognized here as absurd.

THE GOOD PREVAILS Strong Forces at Work to Produce the Result Attained.

Washington, June 16.—When the California delegation in congress got a telegram quoting Governor Gillett as declaring that the big Jeffries-Johnson fight for the heavyweight championship of the world would never take place on California soil, members of the house opposed to prize fighting congratulated Mr. Bennett of New York. All the rest, and they seemed to be in a big majority—scowled at him from all over the chamber.

The story of Governor Gillett's attitude is all mixed up with the efforts of San Francisco to secure governmental sanction of the proposed Panama-Pacific exposition in that city in 1915, and the fact that Mr. Bennett is an influential member of the foreign affairs committee which today will decide between San Francisco and New Orleans. Mr. Bennett was a delegate to the Presbyterian general assembly at Atlantic City. While there the church interests appealed to him to use his influence against the fight. He thought things over and then telegraphed to W. R. Wheeler, president of the San Francisco board of trade, that the sentiment of the house was decidedly against the great exposition to a city that proposed to countenance what looked like the most brutal prize fight ever held.

"Please urge on your committee," Mr. Wheeler telegraphed back in reply, "that the public-spirited people promoting the San Francisco exposition, are not favorable to the fight. The preponderant majority of the people are opposed to the fight. It would be unjust to consider the latter proposition in connection with the former. I thank you for your interest and solicit your influence in behalf of our city."

Mr. Bennett telegraphed Wheeler on May 28. Since that time he has had a good deal of correspondence with Mr. Wheeler and other citizens of San Francisco on the subject of the fight and the detriment of it on the city and her chance of obtaining governmental sanction for the exposition. Just the other day he forwarded to Representative Hayes of California, who has been most active in urging the claims of San Francisco for a favorable notice in connection with the exposition, a letter from a prominent man of San Francisco denouncing the proposed fight. In an indorsement on the letter Mr. Bennett suggested that it gave excellent reasons why San Francisco should not be favored. It is the belief of members of the California delegation and of the house that Mr. Bennett's attitude was in some measure responsible for bringing so much pressure to bear on Governor Gillett as to bring about his declaration that the fight would never take place in that state.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE GAINS STRONG POINT

The Statehood Bill Given Pre- cedence in the Senate.

Washington, June 16.—The statehood bill was made the order of unfinished business in the senate late yesterday afternoon after a very lively parliamentary bout between the friends of statehood and its enemies. Just after the senate disposed of the conservation bill, Senator Beveridge, chairman of the committee on territories, was on his feet to make a motion. Senator Kean of New Jersey was ahead of him, though, and caught the vice president's eye and moved to adjourn, steadfastly resisting the urgent plea of Senator Beveridge that he be allowed to make a motion to take up the statehood bill. The friends of the statehood bill gathered in the aisle and were demonstrative. "Vote it down," urged Senator Bailey, and Senator Kean's motion was lost in a chorus of noes.

The conservation bill, providing for the withdrawal of public lands by the president, another of the administration bills, as it passed the senate was not materially amended as it came from the house save for the adoption of a rider appropriating $50,000,000 for the completion of existing reclamation projects in the far western states. The house already has passed an administration conservation bill and the bill will now go to conference.

WHITE'S TESTIMONY

Charges of a Plot Brought Forward in Lee O'Neil Browne's Hearing.

Chicago, June 16.—The names of three women were brought into the Lee O'Neil Browne case in connection with charges of a plot, in the cross-examination of Charles A. White at the end of a sensational day's session before Judge McSurely. Just before the close of the examination Attorney Forrest bombarded White with questions to show that he told Miss Wood of East St. Louis, who runs a cigar counter in a hotel there, of plotting to get money from Lorimer and his friends. The names of her sisters Edith and Agnes were also brought out.

Mr. Forrest, in rapid-fire questions, charged that White admitted to Katherine Wood that he was "going to get enough money out of the Lorimer bunch" to run himself the rest of his life and that "he had the Lorimer bunch cinched and would duck for Europe" as soon as he "started the trouble."

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart and kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once and see! Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

CAMBRIDGE CITY BOOZELESS TOWN

Jackson Township, Wayne County, Was Yesterday Declared "Dry"
by County Commissioners.

MAJORITY ON REMONSTRANCE

The Inroads of the "Suit Case Brigade" Said to be Largely Responsible.

Jackson township, Wayne county, in which Cambridge City is located, was declared prohibition territory by the county commissioners in session Wednesday, says the Richmond Item. The remonstrance was accepted and becomes operative at once. Liquor will be sold in the township up to April 5, 1911, the date of the expiration of the most recently issued license. One saloon has been closed for a week and another will stop business this month. The majority of voters that signed the remonstrance was thirty-one. The remonstrance is signed by 641 of the 1,166 voters in the township. Withdrawals left the remonstrators a majority of 31.

Henry U. Johnson, as attorney for Charles Williams, one of the saloon owners, appeared before the board of commissioners and stated that although there might be some question as to the validity of some of the signatures to the remonstrance, it could not be substantiated and he would dismiss Williams' application.

The struggle between the liquor forces and the remonstrators in Jackson township has been one of the most incessant ever waged in the county. It had been declared repeatedly that Jackson never could be made dry and the probability is that the boast would have been true had it not been for unforeseen circumstances. Henry county voted dry under the local option law. There is a large number of factory men at New Castle who use intoxicants. They made it their habit since the county went dry to go to Cambridge City once a week or oftener for the purpose of securing their supply of liquor.

They have committed numerous depredations while in the town. The number of arrests has increased. There have been several brawls and fights. Returning crowds of intoxicated men have made the trains and interurban cars unfit for women to occupy. Since the remonstrance has been submitted to the commissioners the death of an intoxicated man occurred beneath a train. The Henry county visitors were known commonly as the "suit case brigade" from their habit of carrying suit cases, which they filled with liquor and took back to New Castle.

Conditions such as these helped mold public opinion against the liquor traffic in the township and added many signatures to the remonstrance. Business men, who under other circumstances would not have cared to have permitted the use of their names for the purpose, did so and this also helped. Unwarranted liberties were permitted about the saloons, such as a few years ago were not tolerated.

The remonstrance was not a religious campaign. It was circulated by men who were opposed to the traffic as tolerated in the township, especially at Cambridge City. It was charged the saloon men were to blame in part, at least, for the state of affairs that came to exist. At Dublin in the west end of the township, there have been no saloons, but the "suit case brigade" passing through the town enroute home from Cambridge, had its effect.

Until a few weeks ago there were eight saloons in the township, all but one of which were at Cambridge City. The exception was Frank Sowers' place at East Germantown. Sowers secured a renewal of his license April 6, of this year, and may conduct his saloon until the same date, next year. This will give him a bonanza in a business way as his will be the only place in Wayne and Henry counties, outside of Richmond, in operation.

SOCIETY NEWS

Greensburg News: A brilliant society event was the luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Louis Zoller and Mrs. T. E. Davidson in honor of the two brides, Mrs. Rollin Turner and Mrs. Aileen Wilson Duncan of Greenfield. The Zoller home, where the entertainment was held, was beautiful with daisies and crimson ramblers. An elegant luncheon of several courses, in which the daisy scheme was carried out in the ices and cakes, was served. In the receiving line were Mrs. Zoller, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. James Zoller. Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Duncan were charming in their bridal gowns. A number of out-of-town guests were present.

Today Mrs. Zoller and Mrs. Davidson entertained again in compliment to the same ladies. As yesterday, the decorations were daisies and roses. Mrs. James Miller assisted in receiving and the guests from a distance were Mrs. Miller of Cincinnati; Miss Anderson, Covington; Mrs. James Zoller, Cincinnati; and Miss Estella White, Findlay, Ohio.

Mrs. T. W. Betker entertained the Grand club at her home in First street this afternoon.

Miss Bertha Helm will entertain a number of friends with a party at her home in West Third street tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. John H. Kiplinger will be hostess for a small company at cards at her home in North Morgan street tomorrow evening.

Miss Callie Brammel and Ray Edwards were quietly married at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. T. B. Gary in Posey township today. They both live in the vicinity of Henderson.

"It cured me," or "it saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

FAVOR SAFE AND SANE ONE.

(Connersville News.)

Steps were taken for a safe and sane Fourth of July by the Board of Directors of the City Civic Federation at their meeting at the Commercial club parlors, yesterday afternoon. The Federation decided to appeal to the public for a quiet celebration of the day and will doubtless ask the city officials to aid in the movement.

TO VOTE 'ER STRAIGHT

(Richmond Item.)

Miles K. Moffitt, postmaster at Connersville, about to retire in favor of Samuel DeHaven, after an unsuccessful effort to secure re-appointment, denies the imputation that he is sore and consequently will support Finly H. Gray, Democratic nominee for congress, against W. O. Barnard, the Republican incumbent. Mr. Moffitt says he will vote the entire Republican ticket, and that any statement to the contrary is false and misleading.

IT'S A NEW WRINKLE.

(Greensburg News.)

Pleading guilty to auto seorching over the telephone is a new wrinkle that the Shelbyville police can well be proud of having turned the first trick. Some days ago Orville Sells, son of S. S. Sells, prominent undertaker of Anderson, drove beyond the speed limit while in Shelbyville. The police of that city caught the number of the machine and traced its ownership to the elder Sells, who yesterday called the Shelbyville authorities and pleaded guilty for his son. The fact that the son hit the town "on the high gear" and grinned at the officer who tried to stop him, cost the father just $25.75.

TO RAISE FACTORY FUND.

(Columbus Republican.)

The Commercial club is going to appeal to the people of this city to raise a factory fund of from $50,000 to $60,000. The club is going to ask the taxpayers of Columbus to donate a sum equal to one per cent of their taxable property and if everyone makes such a donation about $57,500 will be raised.

The idea, as discussed and approved at a meeting held Tuesday night, was to have a copy made of the tax duplicate and then assess each taxpayer one per cent, on the $100. The list will then be divided, solicitors named, and the canvass begun. Of course, there is nothing compulsory about this, and nobody has to pay a cent unless he wants to pay. But those behind the movement believe the people of Columbus are public spirited enough to come forward on a movement of this kind. At any rate they are going to give it a tryout, and if everybody responds there will be no trouble experienced in getting the money.

GERMAN MINISTER RESIGNS.

Dr. G. G. Winters, for thirty years the pastor of the German Evangelical Protestant church at Shelbyville, and who also preached in the German settlement southwest of Manilla, has tendered his resignation to take effect the middle of August. Last year Dr. Winters moved from Shelbyville to Indianapolis to live with his son. He came to Shelbyville every Sunday to preach, but on account of his extreme old age, this was a burdensome task.

SPURRIER GETS BETTER PLACE

Former Rushville Young Man Will Become Principal of Centralia
(Ill.) High School.

HIS SUCCESS AT CHARLESTON

People and Board There Hate to See Him Leave After Years of Service.

Whitelaw Spurrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Spurrier of North Morgan street, has resigned his position as principal of the Charleston, Ill., schools and has accepted a much better one as principalship of the Centralia (Ill.) township high school. Centralia is a city of 12,000 and the school one of the best in Illinois.

Mr. Spurrier has made a great success in his work at Charleston, and according to the Charleston Daily Courier the school board and patrons are loath to see him leave. The Courier says:

W. R. Spurrier, principal of the Charleston high school for the past three years has filed his declination of the position at an advanced salary, with John A. Shores, secretary of the board of education, as he has accepted the principalship of the Centralia township high school. He will enter on his new duties the first Tuesday in September.

During his residence in Charleston, coming from the Kansas schools, to take the principalship of the high school, he has made friends and admirers of the patrons and friends of the schools of this city. His success has been more than marked. As an executive he has shown the highest ability, keeping discipline at all times and holding the respect and friendship of the students. As a teacher he has more than made good, being a man that would give up many spare hours to his pupils. During his regime he has been more than successful in doing his part in building up the high school in study and has been a success in having the best spirit manifest itself toward teacher, scholar and patron.

The educator's relation to Charleston and community as a citizen has been so high that he will be missed on leaving here. He is a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows organizations, and despite the fact that he was always a busy man, he would be found doing his duty to his lodges. In the social circles of Charleston he was always welcomed, being a bright conversationalist, well versed on all subjects. He is also a singer of considerable note and has often appeared in the choirs of the various churches of Charleston as soloist. He has made many friends in Charleston and vicinity who will be sorry to see him leave for other fields, yet at the same time they are pleased that he has taken a larger field in his chosen life's work, and his friends wish him unlimited success in his new location.

Centralia, Ill., is a city of 12,000 population but does not have a high school, having some years ago voted to maintain a township high school which has five directors, having former State Senator Bundy as president of the board. Mr. Bundy is also president of the board of trustees of the Southern State Normal school at Carbondale.

The principalship of a township high school is the same as that of a superintendent and a scholar who enters and completes a course in the Centralia school will have a liberal education.

Mr. Spurrier will be assisted in the coming year's work by fifteen teachers, who will be selected by himself and the board of directors at a meeting to be held in Centralia.

The Centralia township high school is a member of the North Central Association of Accredited schools. Mr. Spurrier goes to his new duties at a high increase of salary, which will eventually reach $3,000 a year, and in return he is given full and unrestrained liberty in conducting the affairs of the school. He will be the absolute head of the institution, and in return the board of directors will expect results—a realization in which they will not be disappointed.

Already, while his friends are reluctant to see him leave Charleston, yet they are loud in their prophecies of his future success.

Mr. Spurrier does not need an introduction to the Centralia directors as they had spent several months in making their investigations as to his qualifications and are in possession of numerous letters of recommendation signed by citizens of Charleston, Ohio and other points. After several weeks of quiet investigation Mr. Spurrier was called to Centralia and the position tendered him. After an inspection of the well-equipped building and its surrounding, he accepted the place.
